A few goals of an internship are as follows: An internship may be a requirement of a specific academic subject. Internships in this area will provide professional experiences related to the subject that requires the students to deliver internship. Another goal of an internship is to know whether the student will pass the professional standards required by companies. This will enable the student to improve if he or she does not receive internships in specific areas and fields of expertise where he or she wants to provide internship services. Internships also allow students to decide on the career path they want to be involved in. A general goal of an internship is to ensure that students will have an idea of what kind of work they want to follow after graduation. Duration of Internship's allocated time for internship depends on the policies and guidelines of the academic institution where the student is currently enrolled with internship. A few internship durations are as follows: Some internships may be done during holiday or semester breaks, which can only last for a month or two. These types of internships relate to specific subjects, and this is why they are done for a short period of time only. Internships can also take for three to four months if it is the most important internship requirement that the students must adhere to during a specific academic year.
